Chair's Introduction

On behalf of the Trustees, I would like to express how immensely proud we are of the achievements of the organisation again throughout this financial year including the first three months of our Centenary year.

We began the 2022 financial year facing a financially challenging environment, mirroring the difficulties facing our members and the early years sector in general. We took the decision to use surplus funds from previous years to enhance our ability to reach out to the sector through investment in additional marketing capacity and celebrations of our Centenary. We set a cautious and prudent budget and have fared better than expected. We continue to keep a close watch on our financial position and are working together to maximise our income streams and seek out new opportunities for funding and possible income generation.

This year has seen the start of celebration of our Centenary year and what a celebration it has been. We have updated our logo and branding to reflect our 100 years of Early Education, and sent our members a special Centenary enamelled pin badge to enable them to show their affiliation with us and raise awareness of our work.

We started in February with the publication of our Centenary book: Early Childhood Education: current realities and future priorities, edited by our President, Professor Dame Cathy Nutbrown and co-authored by some of our Vice Presidents, Associates, Trustees and colleagues from the sector.

The first of three Centenary issues of the Early Education Journal was published in the spring, edited by our President, Professor Dame Cathy Nutbrown entitled Celebrating a Century of Pioneening and Pedagogy. It provided so much to reflect on and values that are just as valid today as they were in 1923 when Margaret McMillan was our first President!

Our Centenary activities included a series of "Centenary Conversations", the first of which was with Professors Chris Pascal, Tony Bertram and Ferre Laevers discussing practice-based research and European traditions of early childhood education in front of a live audience. This provided a great opportunity to be involved in discussions with such renowned and respected colleagues.

The organisation has worked tirelessly throughout the year, continuing with all our substantive activities alongside our centenary events. Successes include the continuing popularity of the Birth to 5 Matters guidance with over 7,500 copies sold and 89,000 copies downloaded.

Our membership remains strong with over 1,250 individuals and organisations signed up.

Our training events both centrally and with local branches combined have reached over 7,500 people with over 100 people attending our annual online conferences and 90 people attending a face-to-face conference for the Maintained Nursery Schools.

We continue to advocate and campaign on behalf of the Maintained Nursery Schools; this year has seen a commitment to additional funding as a result of our ongoing work.

This continues to be a difficult time for the sector with the increased costs of delivery and funding levels not keeping up. There are challenges with recruitment and retention and morale within the sector is low.

Our organisation continues to face its own challenges with less resource available to settings to invest in training we must look for new and innovative ways to support the sector through these turbulent times.

We have once again set a tight budget for the year ahead and are focussing on seeking new projects, funding streams, grants and sponsorship opportunities to ensure that we can continue to lead the way in supporting the sector to deliver high quality early years education and care.

We are so proud that our President Professor Cathy Nutbrown was made a Dame this year. Cathy's tireless work continues to inform and inspire the sector, she is revered for her expertise and is so generous with her time and knowledge. We are so very lucky to have her as our President. Congratulations, Dame Cathy!

Chair's Introduction

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Beatrice and the staff team, the President and Vice Presidents, our Associates, Trustees and branch teams for your commitment to the organisation and for the impact that your contributions continue to have on Early Childhood Education and Care across the UK. It has been another fantastic year!

TRUSTEES' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2023

The Board of Trustees, who are the directors and trustees of the charity, present their report and financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2023 which also contains the directors' report as required by company law.

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the Charitable company's constitution, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) (effective 1st January 2019).

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

The charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is governed by its Articles of Association.

Board of Trustees:

The membership of the Board of Trustees is listed on page 1. The Board of Trustees meets four times each year. The strategic plan is reviewed annually. The majority of trustees are elected from the membership to ensure that members in all nations and regions of the UK are represented, with co-options used to bring in additional skills and expertise from outside the sector. We are committed to inclusion and diversity and seek to improve the balance of under-represented groups among our trustees. An induction pack is given to all new trustees outlining policy and strategy, legal status and governance, structure, organisation and staffing and finance. This is reviewed annually and updated as necessary.

The Finance & General Purposes (F&GP) Committee consists of the Treasurer, Chair of the Board and elected trustees. This committee meets four times each year with delegated authority from the Board, monitors the organisation's performance and makes recommendations to the Board of Trustees.

Additional working groups and sub-committees are established as needed and currently include a Marketing Sub-Group and a Centenary Working Group.

Both Board and F&GP Committee meetings are attended by the Chief Executive.

OBJECTS AND ACTIVITIES

The charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is therefore governed by its Articles of Association. The charity is known as Early Education.

Early Education's objectives are to promote the education and development of young children, and to support those who provide early education and care. We aim to carry out our charitable purposes to deliver public benefit through the following activities. We champion the rights of the child and strive to improve provision for young children. We provide a network of support, advice and collective representation for anyone concerned with the provision of quality education and care of young children.

We are a membership organisation with members across the UK. We provide opportunities for professional development through our local branch events, a national programme of training courses and conferences, and the training and consultancy provided by our Associates. We publish books, resources and a journal in print, and maintain a website with further online resources, supplemented by e-newsletters and social media communications. We also undertake project work in support of our aims.

The Trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission in determining the activities undertaken by the charity.

THE YEAR 2022-23 IN DETAIL

Our assessment of success in the reporting period is set out below, analysing performance against our objectives, as set out in our work plan 2022-23.

1. Centenary planning and delivery

In 2023, the charity celebrates its centenary, and the final quarter of the financial year therefore included several centenary-related activities:

- A book to mark our Centenary, Early Childhood Education: current realities and future priorities, edited by our President, Professor Dame Cathy Nutbrown, was published by Sage in February 2023. The chapters were written by Vice Presidents, Trustees, Associates and other members from all four UK nations.
- The first of our Centenary Conversations was held in Birmingham with Professors Chris Pascal, Tony Bertram and Ferre Laevers discussing Practice-based research and European traditions of early childhood education in front of a live audience, and was made available to view online afterwards.
- The first Centenary issue of the Early Education Journal, edited by Cathy Nutbrown and entitled Celebrating a century of pioneering and pedagogy was published and sent to members.
- A resource pack was provided for local branches to support the planning of their Centenary events.

2. Advocacy/Campaigns, policy and public awareness

Campaigning activity included the following:

- Our longstanding campaign on maintained nursery school funding resulted in the government providing commitment to an additional £10million per year to raise the minimum amount of supplementary funding for maintained nursery schools from 2023-24 to at least £3.80 per child per hour. While this was a major step forward, the funding pressures created by high inflation and staff pay increases meant that the funding crisis remains very pressing. We undertook surveys of maintained nursery school (MNS) finances in May 2022 and again in February 2023, the findings of which were published to support ongoing joint campaign activity with unions. We were pleased to finish the year with our first face-to-face conference since pre-Covid, which brought together maintained nursery school headteachers for mutual support and sharing of approaches to curriculum and sustainability.
- We were part of a consortium of organisations led by Kindred Squared with ArkStart and LEYF nurseries, supported by analytical work by Frontier Economics, which published Solutions for an Improved Early Years System: A discussion document. The document proposed a number of options for rethinking the early years funding system to support the sustainability of the sector, especially ensuring the viability provision in disadvantaged areas. It included options for full-time places for early childhood education and care for children from age 1, which at the time seemed a far-off political prospect, but became government policy only a month later in the autumn budget. As yet, there is no sign that government has taken on board our arguments about the funding rates needed or the case for targeting funding more heavily towards disadvantage, but discussions are ongoing.
- In support of our aim to raise awareness of the issues around race and ethnicity in the early years workforce, we were involved in an advisory capacity on a project led by Dr Mona Sakr of Middlesex University project on ethnicity in maintained nursery school workforce. The research explored a range of issues and could serve as a pilot for a wider study. A webinar on the findings was provided through the Early Education events programme.
- We raised a number of concerns with Ofsted through letters and meetings during the year, including on the first instalment of their Early Years Curriculum Review.
- We seek to influence government policy through membership of the Department for Education (DfE)
 Early Years Stakeholders' Group and bilateral meetings with officials. Early Education's Chief Executive served on the Advisory Board for the review of the Level 3 Early Years Educator qualification and the Early Years Stronger Practice Hubs Advisory Board.

- We remain a member of the More Than A Score coalition seeking the abolition of the Reception baseline assessment as part of a wider review of primary assessment.
- Our Chief Executive is a member of the Nature Premium Steering Group, seeking to make the case for all early years settings and schools to be funded to support children's access to nature.

Professional learning

3. Membership and branches

Efforts to improve membership retention included using our new membership system to provide multiple email reminders about renewals. It has also been helpful that most individual members have moved to payment by direct debit, and individuals now pay quarterly instead of annually to spread the cost.

The membership offer was streamlined to provide a clearer, simpler set of choices for potential new members, and messaging around the benefits of membership were reviewed and reframed. Total membership numbers remain broadly stable. A slight fall in individual members in part reflects a decrease in take up of free student membership. Organisational membership has shifted towards multi-site membership, which reduces the costs per school and therefore offers better value. Membership income increased slightly compared to the previous year.

	2023	2022
Individual full rate (annual/quarterly)	545	528
Individual reduced rate/concession	269	318
Life member	41	41
Total individual members	855	887
Small organisation/Group A	190	203
Large organisation/Group B/C	52	62
Multisite (main)	22	19
Multisite (additional)	167	128
Multisite (additional) - online	0	19
Total group members	431	432

Some branches continued with online events, while there was also the start of a return to face-to-face ones. 15 branches were successful in holding meetings during the year and another branch had planned a meeting which was cancelled due to low numbers. The difficulties with attendance are evident in that roughly the same number of events as last year had many fewer attendees: down from 3,110 bookings for 61 events in 2021-22 to 1,762 bookings for 50 events in 2022-23. Branches continue to explore what formats, timings and topics will best engage practitioners.

The role of branches in providing a supportive network of like-minded colleagues is as important as ever at a time of huge pressures on the early years workforce and we thank the volunteers branch officers and committee members who give up their time to keep the branches running.

4. CPD, Training and events

The drop in engagement was as noticeable with national events as it was with local branches. The number of bookings for paid online training sessions decreased for the second year in a row following the high point during Covid. Rates of attendance at events also decreased slightly. The addition of a range of free events boosted take-up to a similar total to the previous year. Free events included termly member briefings and presentations of recent research findings by academic colleagues. This demonstrates that cost is at least part of the barrier to uptake.

Bookings for the two national conferences, in the spring and autumn were slightly higher than the previous year, but plans to hold the Autumn Conference in person were scuppered by understandable hesitancy about booking an in person event when train strikes were making travel difficult. Budgetary pressures were probably also a factor. The event therefore took place online instead. By March, however, we were able to hold a very successful in-person conference for Maintained Nursery School headteachers, with generous support from the National Education Union who gave us the use their excellent conference facilities.

During the year we explored the possibility of, but did not go ahead with, delivering nationally recognised qualifications including the NPQ Early Years Leadership and the Level 3 SENCO award. However, we were commissioned by UCL Institute of Education to help develop content for the former which was a positive outcome. We continue to keep CPD offer under review.

5. Associates

During the year we recruited an additional three Associates.

Activity continued to increase back towards pre-pandemic levels. Over the year, we had 160 pieces of work, ranging from single session training events to substantial projects, for 65 different clients. Work was commissioned by the Department for Education, local authorities, charities, a university, a union, settings, schools and consortia of schools across England, Scotland and Wales.

The most popular topics for bespoke training were:

- · Curriculum in the early years
- Diversity and anti-racism
- Adult-child interactions
- Creativity, expressive arts and design
- Personal, social and emotional development
- Play
- Early years pedagogy

6. Publications and resources

The three issues of the Early Education Journal during the year focused on:

- STEM in the early years, edited by Beatrice Merrick
- Curriculum perspectives across the 4 UK nations, edited by Di Chilvers
- Celebrating a century of pioneering and pedagogy, edited by Cathy Nutbrown.

Interest in the Birth to 5 Matters non-statutory guidance remained strong, with 89,000 downloads of the PDF, 620,000 unique page views of the Birth to 5 Matters website and 3,500 print copies sold. It has clearly become an established reference source for practitioners and students across the early years sector in England. The Early Years Coalition Steering Group continues to meet twice a year to monitor developments, and members of the coalition provided three blogs over the course of the year to promote the principles of the guidance.

7. Projects and funding applications

During the year we had funding from Youth Music to support The Family Music Hubs: a project led by Associate Nicola Burke with two other early years music experts. The funding enabled development work on the initiative to take place, and further funding has been sought to take forward the establishment of the Hub.

Work was completed at the start of the year on a Froebel Trust funded project on families' engagement with nature, and the outcome of the research was disseminated in the form of a resource for parents/carers and practitioners.

8. Marketing and promotion

The trustees worked with a marketing consultant to develop a plan to increase marketing activity and a temporary Marketing Manager was then recruited. She undertook some small-scale market research and drew up and implemented a strategy. Some progress was achieved in improving online engagement, reframing the membership offer and improving the range and accessibility of our online content. Work was still ongoing at the end of the financial year.

9. Governance and compliance

The trustees completed a review of governance and as a result changes to the Board structure were proposed, agreed and adopted. These reduced the number of trustees to 15, simplified the regional representation element and shifted the balance between elected and co-opted trustees. These changes were intended to ensure effective decision making with a greater focus on recruiting trustees with the right skills and knowledge.

PERFORMANCE AND IMPACT

Our primary means of raising the quality of early childhood education in the UK are through our impact on policy as a campaigning organisation, and our influence on practitioners' professional learning.

This year showed how campaigning is a slow and gradual process, with the extra £10m for maintained nursery schools being the result of our long-term efforts. Our wider campaigning effort is often joint with others, as in the example of the Kindred Squared discussion paper, where many shoulders are put to the wheel pushing for greater equity and sustainability in the approach to early years funding.

Supporting practitioners' professional learning is particularly challenging at this time when the sector is underfunded and struggling with a recruitment and retention crisis which makes it difficult for practitioners to take time away from the frontline. Staff are demoralised, exhausted by the long-term impact of the pandemic and weary of online training but struggling with the time and commitment necessary for in person events. There is a crowded market for early years training, including increased availability of government-funded CPD in England. In that context, we continue to maintain and increase our reach and impact. We have sought to maintain good levels of engagement by offering more free events, and continue to receive positive feedback about the quality of our offer. The bespoke training and consultancy delivered through the Associates programme has significant reach, although the numbers of practitioners reached is hard to quantify.

Our challenge is to find a new model for delivering the high quality, high impact and ideally low-cost CPD which would make a difference to the quality of early childhood education in the face of these many challenges.

Our financial performance for the year was better than budgeted. Although income from events fell, the impact of this was offset by better than budgeted income from Associates, publications and the steady performance of membership.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

In 2020, trustees set the following strategic goals to drive our work.

GOAL 1. Practitioners benefit from/participate in high quality professional learning experiences which enhance their:

- professionalism, confidence, and sense of belonging
- knowledge and skills to offer high quality provision and work effectively with families

GOAL 2: National and local policymakers receive appropriate messages and information from the sector and engage in informed dialogue.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Results

The results for the year are set out on page 15 of these financial statements. Movements in tangible fixed assets are shown in note 15.

Gross income for the year was £399,791 (2022: £494,659). Membership income was £94,678 (2022: £94,408). Events income reduced to £25,982 (2022: £42,909) as the sector struggled with funding shortfalls and lack of available cover staff. Consultancy undertaken by Associates increased to £182,726 (2022: £142,776). Publications income reduced after the spike in demand caused by the publication of the Birth to 5 Matters guidance last year, although a steady level of sales provided income of £49,807 (2022: £169,422).

Expenditure was £440,934 (2022: £450,682). The direct costs of most activities were in line with income levels, although events and project expenditure exceeded income due to the low levels of income in year. Support costs were £198,215 (2022: £179,030).

Branch income of £11,126 (2022: £8,169) exclusive of branch rebates of £4,135 (2022: £3,464) was higher than expenditure of £8,405 (2022: £5,457).

Overall, the charity had a deficit of £41,143 (2022: surplus of £43,977).

Reserves and investments

Early Education's funding comes mainly from membership fees, sales of goods and services, donations and grants from public and private bodies. Sufficient funds are kept in Early Education's current account to meet immediate needs. Monies in excess of £20,000 in the current account are maintained in a deposit account held with Unity Bank.

Early Education's reserves policy is to maintain three months operating expenses. The committee estimate this to be approximately £52,500 for the year ending 31 March 2023. Unrestricted general funds at this date amounted to £63,530. The purposes of the reserves are to ensure that sufficient funds are available to cover any temporary funding shortfall which results from cash flow timings and to cover its liabilities should the charity have to close.

Risk

The principal risk identified in relation to the 2022-23 financial year was the volatility of income streams and the necessity to continue generating activities which provide a surplus. Finding consistent sources of income remains a challenge: the fall in events income and publications sales in the year was only partially offset by an increase in consultancy. Bearing in mind the ongoing challenge for the charity of generating sufficient surplus to cover core costs, the trustees will continue to keep under review the need to maximise income from core activities and additionally seek out project funding that can support this. The investment in marketing within the year to increase future income needs to be part of a longer term process, but funds to do this are limited. The deficit in the current year is manageable in the context of the current level of reserves, but only in the short-term.

Procedures are in place to monitor the adequacy of working capital and trustees receive regular reports on the financial position.

Going concern

After making appropriate enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements. Further details regarding the adoption of the going concern basis can be found in the accounting policies.

Members' liability

The Members of the Company guarantee to contribute an amount not exceeding £1 to the assets of the Company in the event of winding up.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2023

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of The British Association For Early Childhood Education ('the Company')

I report to the charity Trustees on my examination of the accounts of the Company for the year ended 31 March 2023 which are set out on pages 15 to 33.

Responsibilities and Basis of Report

As the Trustees of the Company (and its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of the Company's accounts carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent Examiner's Statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

- 1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act,
- 2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
- the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
- the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities [applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)].

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Membership subscriptions have been accounted for over the period to which they relate. The uneamed proportion is carried forward under deferred income for recognition in future years.

Grants and donations have been accounted for when receivable by the charity. Relevant gift aid taxation refunds received after the year have been included in the results. Legacies are accounted for when received or otherwise only if amounts are with certainty. All other incoming resources are accounted for when receivable.

Other income is recognised in the period in which it is receivable and to the extent the goods have been provided or on completion of the service.
