2. The Company, with full title guarantee, but subject always to Clause 3.7 of the Deed, as security for the payment and performance of the Secured Liabilities, has charged in favour of the Lessor by way of first floating charge all its undertaking and assets whatsoever and wheresoever both present and future to the extent not effectively mortgaged, charged by way of fixed charge, or assigned by any of the above-mentioned provisions of Clause 3 of the Deed.

NOTES:

- 1 In the Deed, the Company has undertaken that:
- 1.1 save in respect of the Security Assets subject to the floating charge granted pursuant to Clause 3.5 of the Deed prior to its having crystallized or being converted pursuant to the terms thereof, it shall not create or permit to subsist any Security Interest (as defined below) over all or any of the Security Assets, whether fixed or floating, and whether ranking ahead or behind of or pari passu with the Deed save for any Security Interest in favour of the Lessor constituted or evidenced by the Deed and any other Finance Document (the "Negative Pledge");
- 1.2 it will not, either in a single transaction or in a series of transactions, whether related or not and whether voluntarily or involuntarily, sell, transfer, grant or lease or otherwise dispose of, or create any interest in, all or any part of the Security Assets save that:-
- 1.2.1 without prejudice to the Negative Pledge, such undertaking does not apply to any disposal which constitutes the creation of a Security Interest;
- 1.2.2 the Company may, subject as provided in the Deed, pay money to the Lessor in or towards satisfaction of any of the Secured Liabilities; and
- 1.2.3 the Company may dispose of assets which are the subject of an uncrystallised floating charge in the ordinary course of its business; and
- 1.2.4 the Company may deal with, and dispose of as it sees fit, any Receivables (as defined below) released to it from the Toshiba Account in accordance with the terms of the Account Bank Agreement (as defined below);
- 1.3 it will not at any time during the Security Period (as defined below) either (a) be entitled to payment of any monies from the Toshiba Account other than pursuant to and in accordance with the terms of the Deed or (b) without prior written consent of the Lessor deal with the Receivables otherwise than by procuring payment thereof into the Toshiba Account. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Company has undertaken not at any such time to factor, discount, or otherwise assign any of the Receivables or agree to purport to do so.
- 2 By the terms of the Deed, it is provided that the floating charge created by the Deed will automatically be converted into a fixed charge (a) on the appointment of a liquidator or similar officer to the Company or (b) on the making of any order or the passing of any resolution of the Company for the liquidation, winding-up or dissolution of the Company (save in relation to a bona fide amalgamation or reconstruction involving the Company) or (c) on the appointment of a Receiver (as defined below) or Receivers of the whole or any part of the assets of the Company or (d) on a petition being presented for the appointment of an administrator of the Company.

- 2.1 The terms of the floating charge created by the Deed are qualified as follows:
- 2.1.1 the floating charge granted by the Deed (which shall include for the avoidance of doubt any floating charge converted pursuant to Clause 3.6 of the Deed) is solely and strictly granted on and subject to the following provisions:
 - 2.1.2 it shall become enforceable only so long as a petition is outstanding under section 9 Insolvency Act 1986 for the making of an administration order in relation to the Company under section 8 of that Act;
 - 2.1.3 it is incapable of crystallising under any circumstances except the making of such a petition, and the Lessor may not in any other way seek to enhance or change its nature or effect;
 - 2.1.4 it may be enforced only by appointing a Receiver who is an administrative receiver within the meaning of section 29(2) of that Act;
 - 2.1.5 any proceeds (in cash or kind) relating to any asset over which the floating charge is granted which the Lessor or any such Receiver may receive or of which they may otherwise obtain the benefit as a result of the grant of the floating charge will be paid over to or delivered to any other person holding the benefit of any other encumbrance over that asset or, if there is no such person, the Company itself, pending which the Lessor or that Receiver will hold the same on trust for that person or the Company, as the case may be; and
 - 2.1.6 the floating charge will rank behind any other charge or encumbrance (each an "Encumbrance"), whenever created, which exists over any such asset (but this is without prejudice to the Lessor's rights to appoint a Receiver under Clause 3.7 of the Deed), and the Lessor will, at its own cost and at the request of the Company, subordinate the floating charge to any such Encumbrance (and for this purpose enter into such subordination agreement and other appropriate documents with the holder of that Encumbrance in any usual form and in form and substance satisfactory to that holder) as the holder may require to achieve this result.
- 3 In the Deed, the Company has undertaken at all times during the Security Period that it will:
- (a) collect, get in and realise all Service Income and Debts (together, the "Receivables") promptly and expeditiously from time to time as the same become receivable by the Company;
 - (b) direct the Trust (as defined below) to pay all Receivables into the Toshiba Account; and
 - (c) to the extent that any of the same are received by the Company, hold the proceeds of such getting in and realisation thereof (until payment into the Toshiba Account as provided in the Deed) upon trust for the Lessor.
