The trustees are eligible, in committee, to appoint additional trustees and directors under the terms of the Articles of Association of the company.

Development, activities and achievements

The year 2000 has produced another successful London Handel Festival. There have been capacity audiences attending most concerts, especially those involving a choir and soloists as part of the production. Orchestral concerts are not so well attended but we have been able to achieve attendances of around 70% capacity. The orchestra has also had outside engagements at the Boxgrove and Chelsea Festivals. There was also a Christmas performance from the Chapel of St George's, Windsor. A CD was produced for the opera Silla, and it is selling well.

The financial position has again been sustained by many private donors. Substantial public funding has been provided by the Sports & Arts Foundation and Westminster City Council. Private companies and Trusts have been most generous, especially the Ford Motor Co.

Review of transactions and financial position

The charity has seven directors all of whom have wide public experience in managing public and company affairs. In achieving a successful Festival the directors do not receive any fees in relation to the tasks undertaken. Therefore, the Society is heavily dependent on voluntary effort to survive.

The Society's activities have been successfully conducted, although a loss has been incurred and this has been funded by the Society's reserves. All funds received have been correctly applied in furtherance of the objectives of the company. No investments are currently held by the Society.

LONDON HANDEL SOCIETY LIMITED

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS AND TRUSTEES

It should be noted that ticket sales produce around one third of our income, from other sources described above together with the generosity of individuals.

Trustees' and directors' responsibilities

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial period which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of its financial activities for that period. In preparing those financial statements the directors are required to :-

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In addition to the requirements of company law regarding directors' responsibilities, law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the trustees to state, in respect of the preparation of the financial statements, whether the policies adopted are in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice - "Accounting by Charities", the Regulations made under Section 44 of the Charities Act and with applicable accounting standards, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.

Auditors

The auditors, Winters, are willing to be reappointed in accordance with section 385 of the Companies Act 1985.

Small company disclosure

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions relating to small companies within Part VII of the Companies Act 1985.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF THE LONDON HANDEL SOCIETY LIMITED

We have audited the financial statements on pages 4 to 8 which have been prepared under the historical cost convention and the accounting policies set out on page 6.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and auditors

As described on page 2 the trustees, who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law, are responsible for the preparation of financial statements. It is our responsibility to form an independent opinion, based on our audit, on those statements and to report our opinion to you.

Basis of opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Auditing Standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgements made by the members of council in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the Institute's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

Opinion

In our opinion the financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company as at 30 June 2000 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, in the year then ended and have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985.
