Director's interests.

The interests of Prudential Property Services Limited are exempted from notification by section 324(6) of the Companies Act 1985 (as amended)

Qualifying third party indemnities

The Articles of Association of the Company provide for the directors and officers of the Company to be indemnified in respect of liabilities incurred as a result of their office. Prudential plc also provides certain protections for its directors and senior managers, who may be directors of its associated companies, within the Prudential Group against personal financial exposure that they may incur in their capacity as such. These include qualifying third party indemnity provisions (as defined under Section 309B of the Companies Act 1985) in force for the benefit of the directors of Prudential plc and of certain directors of associated companies (as defined under Section 309A of the Companies Act 1985) at the time this annual directors' report was approved under Section 234A of the Companies Act 1985 and during 2006.

Auditor

The Company is exempt under Section 249AA of the Companies Act 1985 (as amended) from the provisions of Part VII of this Act relating to the audit of accounts and accordingly no auditor is appointed.
