Directors' responsibilities

Company law requires the directors to prepare the financial statements for each financial period which give a true and fair view of the company's state of affairs at the end of the accounting period and of the profit or loss for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- follow applicable accounting standards, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The director has taken advantage of the special exemptions applicable to small companies conferred by Part II of Schedule 8 to the Companies Act 1985 in the preparation of the financial statements and has done so on the grounds that, in his opinion the company is entitled to those exemptions as a small company.

In the director's opinion the company was entitled under section 249A(2) of the Companies Act 1985 to exemption from the audit of its accounts for the year ended 31 October 1994. No member of the company has deposited a notice under section 249(B) requiring an audit of its accounts.

The directors are responsible for ensuring that the company keeps accounting records which comply with section 221 of the Act and for preparing accounts which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company as at the end of each financial year and of its profit or loss for each year in accordance with the requirements of section 226 of the Act and which otherwise comply with its requirements, so far as applicable to the company.

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS ON THE UNAUDITED ACCOUNTS OF DEIGHTON ROWE LIMITED

We report on the accounts for the year ended 31 October 1994 set out on pages 2 to 5.

Respective responsibilities of directors and reporting accountants

As described on page 2 the company's director is responsible for the preparation of accounts, and he considers that the company is exempt from audit. It is our responsibility to carry out procedures designed to enable us to report our opinion.

Basis of opinion

Our work was conducted in accordance with the Statement of Standards for Reporting Accountants, and so our procedures consisted of comparing the accounts with the accounting records kept by the company, and making such limited enquiries of the officers of the company as we considered necessary for the purposes of this report. These procedures provide only the assurance expressed in our opinion.

Opinion

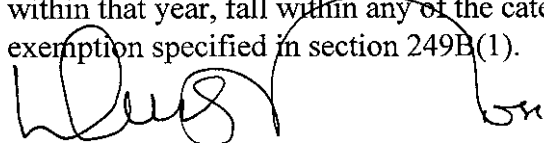

In our opinion:

(a) the accounts are in agreement with the accounting records kept by the company under section 221 of the Companies Act 1985;

(b) having regard only to, and on the basis of, the information contained in those accounting records:

(i) the accounts have been drawn up in a manner consistent with the accounting requirements specified in section 249C(6) of the Act; and

(ii) the company satisfied the conditions for exemption from an audit of the accounts for the year specified in section 249A(4) of the Act and did not, at any time within that year, fall within any of the categories of companies not entitled to the exemption specified in section 249B(1).
