A Word from the Chair

In last year's report the chair asked the question "What will 2020 bring?" I'm not sure quite how Hilary imagined that question would be answered but I'm pretty sure it didn't involve non-stop zoom meetings, furlough, social distancing laws and over 100,000 tragic deaths at the hands of a virus none of us knew about.

As we reflect back on this year there is much to cause grief and worry, many of us have lost those we love and care for, close to 700,000 are estimated to have been driven into poverty by the Covid crisis, the impact on mental health and social isolation has been severe.

However, it is also a year in which mutual aid groups stepped into the breach, volunteering increased, new partnerships across sectors were formed, footballers advocated for the rights of the most vulnerable and we were united in surprising ways like doorstep clapping.

And this mixed and varied picture was reflected for the LCCT projects. For some they suddenly found themselves thrust into the centre of the response, coordinating and delivering emergency food, connecting to the isolated and lonely and supporting the vulnerable. For others their projects were unable to run in the same way or indeed at all. The adaptability and perseverance of the projects was remarkable and a real credit to all involved including the wonderful central staff team.

In order to ensure a sustainable future for the organisation towards the end of the year LCCT underwent a change in the way in which projects related to the core offering two streams with differing offerings and contributions as opposed to one. The hope is that this change will allow the projects to access the support and guidance they need to flourish both now and in the future. In comings and goings we were sad to say goodbye to Na Ncube who left the organisation after faithfully managing the finances for a number of years. Helen Coutie has joined in her place and has quickly become a valued member of the team. On the board Bishop Tony Parry moved on as he takes increasing responsibilities within his denomination while we also welcomed two new trustees, Revd Jean-Louis Pecher and Pastor Garry Graham, both bringing valuable skills and experience to the table.

What will 2021 bring?

ABOUT LCCT

LCCT has been supporting grass roots community initiatives since 2003. Our unique model enables projects to operate under our charity registration and receive the benefits of shared governance, accountancy, insurance, policies and procedures, HR and operational systems. We also provide development support allowing projects to grow and develop at their own pace within a supportive network of other similar projects. Each project has its own steering group who support the Lead Worker and determine strategy. This ensures that the work is driven at the local level by local people. It means that projects can stay small and operate at grass roots level while funders and other stakeholders can be sure that the infrastructure is in place to manage funds effectively and ensure sustainability. Our 15 projects are supported by a small team of 4 part time staff and 4 Trustees.

Manager's Report

As Theo says in his Chair's comments, the adaptability and perseverance of all the LCCT projects has been truly impressive. In an environment in which 1 in 10 charities fear bankruptcy and closure, we are grateful that we are still here and still able to make a difference in Leeds through our 15 projects. For some projects the pandemic meant increased activity as they adapted services to deliver food parcels or run online events. Others, who had to decrease or suspend activities, used the time for reflection and planning. During the short period in which limited activities were allowed, a number of projects ran successful activities and events, despite the extra work involved in ensuring safety and complying with government guidelines, and always working with the uncertainty of changing regulations.

Over the year the wide range of services offered by our projects has included facilitating prayer for the city, offering online counselling sessions, provision of food and shelter, doorstep visiting, and supportive phone calls. The creative ways projects have responded to pandemic restrictions has been astounding, from a small ESOL group who had to overcome their beneficiaries' digital exclusion before offering online classes, to the community centre producing an art exhibition on a local fence, to be enjoyed by residents as they passed by.

Below is just a snapshot of some of the achievements of our wonderful project workers and volunteers.

- Support and advice through social media platforms reached more than 203,000 people
- 300 Volunteers gave more than 2500 hours
- 21000+ meals delivered
- 2000+ food parcels delivered
- Almost 1000 activity packs sent out
- 3000 people benefitted from the distribution of small grants organised by UPA
- Online services included prayer meetings, ESOL classes, mental health support, parenting advice, conversation, games, and baking sessions.

We should not assume that any of this came easily, the quote below from Clare demonstrates the impact on project workers

At the start of 2020 we had some great English classes as we explored the city centre. We did a treasure hunt in the market and we walked through the dark arches and along the river. In March, our provision fell off a cliff and it took me a while to get organised. I am happy to say that before the end of the year my colleague Dawn and I had started delivering a weekly class on zoom. This is continuing to grow and although a small group, the attendees come faithfully each week.

As we look forward to a time when demand is expected to rise as resources decrease, I am confident that all our projects will continue to amaze us with their resilience and creativity.

Trustees' Annual Report (Incorporating the Director's Report)

Our Aims and Objectives

Leeds Christian Community Trust's charitable objects are particularly within Leeds and in the U.K.

1. To promote social inclusion for the public benefit by preventing people from becoming socially excluded, relieving the needs of those people who are socially excluded and assisting them to integrate into society (for the purpose of this clause 'socially excluded' means being excluded from society, on the grounds of social, physical, psychological and/or economic position, or as a result of discrimination on the grounds of sex, race, disability, ethnic origin, religion, belief, creed, or sexual orientation).
2. To advance education amongst members of the community for the benefit of the community and social cohesion.
3. To advance the Christian faith for the benefit of the public.
4. Other such charitable purposes as the Trustees shall see fit.

In each case in a manner which aligns with the values of the organisation which are drawn from the Christian Faith as expressed and revealed in the Holy Scriptures.

What we do and how we do it

Our mission is to equip, release, enable, and undergird small projects in Leeds, resulting in lasting positive change through the empowerment of individuals and communities. In one sense we act as a 'Hub Charity' comprising around 15 member projects; these projects have been started by those with a vision and passion to make a difference, and then accepted into LCCT to be part of our charity. The collective work of the individual projects is the front-line work of our charity as a whole, as it is carried out by each of the projects in their particular fields and local community areas of the city. The projects all utilise our centralised functions, are required to adhere to our policies and procedures, and report regularly to trustees. At the same time each project has its own Steering Group/Management Group which ensures that the ownership of the project is kept close to the ground and each project can be very responsive to the particular needs and situation within which it is working.

In this way we are able to build the capacity of small projects, enable them to function effectively, and also help them learn and grow at their own pace. In short, we provide them with the following:

- a) A legal structure and charitable status
- b) Central accounting and reporting
- c) Online financial recording and expense claim system
- d) Employment services
- e) Insurance
- f) Policies and compliance
- g) A supportive network
- h) Regular advice and training
- i) Trust membership

The reason we work like this is because we believe that the best way of fostering real and lasting change is by equipping people on the ground in communities, people with lived experience responding to needs, and those with a passion for enabling change. By working in this way since 2003 we have had the privilege of running and supporting over 60 projects, some of which have grown and gone on to become well established independent charities, such as the Manuel Bravo project, Involve Leeds and the Joanna project.

Our structure

Trustees: The work of the charity is directed and overseen by the board of trustees listed in this document. The board meets every 8 to 12 weeks, with relevant members of the core team attending meetings. There is an agreed process for recruiting and inducting new trustees; to maintain the Christian values and identity of LCCT, it is a requirement that trustees have an active Christian faith and the trustees seek to maintain a broad diversity by having representatives from a range of Christian denominations on the board. (This requirement is only at board level – membership is open to all that can align with and operate within the values of the Trust).

Core Team: The Trust Co-ordinator/Manager works closely with the trustees and leads a lean core staff team comprising the Trust Administrator, Communications Officer and Finance Officer. All staff work part-time hours.

Project Steering Groups/Management groups:

Each project has a project Steering Group/Management Group which has the responsibility for overseeing and managing the ongoing work of the project under a Terms of Reference document agreed with LCCT trustees. The Steering Groups usually include a mix of volunteers involved in the project and local people with skills in areas of project management or links to partner agencies in the area.

Project Leaders: The key person in each project for carrying out and co-ordinating the day to day work of the project is the Project Leader. The Core Team work closely with the Project Leaders on matters of budgets, employment, policies, practice and any issues arising.

Employees: Most Project Leaders and other employees of projects are employed by LCCT, as are the staff members of the Core Team. As of 31st December 2020, there were 17 employees on the LCCT payroll.

Members: The Trust operates as a membership body (currently around 45 members), which includes project leaders, trustees, staff members, associate organisations with similar aims, and a few other individuals in the city of Leeds who have an interest in the Trust. All the Members are invited to gather at 3 assemblies per year, including the AGM.

How new projects become Member Projects of the Trust: Where a project wishes to join the Trust, a sub-group of existing Trust members carry out a visit and assess the following;

- Whether the project fits the criteria of the Trust
- Whether there is an alternative to it becoming a project of the Trust
- The effectiveness and accountability of its management structure
- The capacity of the project to carry out the work
- How the project could contribute to the vision and mission of LCCT as a whole.

Those Members then report back to the next meeting of the whole membership body where a decision is made as to whether to adopt the project. Following this an induction meeting is arranged with the core staff team. Any project that can align with our values is welcome to apply, including those with no particular faith basis.

Our achievements

When reviewing our aims and objectives and in planning our future activities the Trustees have complied with the duty in section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission. In particular, the Trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives of the Trust.

Trustees' Annual Report (Incorporating the Director's Report)

During 2020, one project joined the Trust. As of 31st December 2020, there were 15 member projects and 2 LCCT direct work strands.

Volunteers

Due to Covid-19 there were fewer events during 2020 but there were still approximately 300 volunteers helping within the projects of the Trust contributing over 2500 volunteer hours.

Risks & Uncertainties

Delegated responsibility and Risk

The delegation of responsibility for the day to day running of the projects creates risk for the Trustees. However, the Trustees have considered the major risks to which the company is exposed and where relevant put policies and procedures in place to mitigate those risks. Trustees have to be satisfied that there is an effective management structure in place before the Trust will accept a project as a member project of LCCT. Ownership of the project budget rests with the project steering committee; however, the project's finances are centrally managed by the Trust's Finance Manager who reports regularly to the Trustees. Core team staff provide on-going support and meet annually with each project about their proposed budget and capacity to continue, assisting them in making timely decisions about reduction in activities or closure where necessary. Any new types of activity have to be notified to our insurers via the Trust Administrator.

A more formal Risk Register is reviewed by trustees at each of the regular governance meetings to monitor and manage major risks to the Trust.

Plans for Future Periods

Over many years we had generous backing from two benefactors, but due to changes in circumstances and how they wished to move forward with distribution of their funds, this arrangement was phased out gradually, coming to an end in 2017. This funding covered most of our core costs and some of the project costs, and as such we recognise we have historically been overly dependent on this one source of funding.

Over the last few years as the Trust has transitioned from providing grants, office space and other support that our benefactors enabled, we have sharpened our focus to providing developmental, administrative and accounting support for projects looking to make a difference in their locality. We have also been working hard to address the core costs funding gap by;

- In order to cover core costs we will move a full cost recovery model for all projects who receive restricted funding and those projects relying on donation and unrestricted funding continue to contribute 10% of income
- restructuring the core team to align resources to current needs and reduce overall expenditure
- closer management of cost centres
- investing resources in researching funding sources and writing applications

The Trustees and the core team are exploring income diversification in order to cover core costs and are working to increase fundraising capacity within the projects we currently support, as well as reviewing our activities to ensure that we can help even more small and emerging projects in the city that would otherwise struggle or fail altogether for lack of structure and tailored support.

Financial Review

Principal Funding Sources

We currently draw our funding from three main sources (grants, donations and trading) with the largest of these being grants followed fairly closely by donations. This reflects the hard work of the member projects and the core team in applying to funders throughout the year as well as spending time on communications and fostering good connections which generate a significant level of donations. We recognise that the level of trading income is low in comparison so increasing this could form part of the strategy for sustainability.

We have seen a mixed picture regarding the effects of the pandemic; some of our projects have received extra funding to support Covid-19 response activities, others have lost events income. Donations were reduced as was trading income.

The total income for the year was £270,230 (2019: £226,011). Grant income was £172,578 (2019: £96,722) (63.9%) where the largest single grant obtained was £16,000. Other individual/church donors amounted to £82,466 (2019: £96,998) (30.5%). The remainder was brought in from gift aid and other trading income.

The Statement of Financial Activities shows a net surplus for the year after transfers to and from projects of £16,703 (2019: £5,923). The reserves stand in total at £263,114 (2019: £246,411) at 31 December 2020. The Trustees consider the financial position of the charity to be satisfactory.

Reserves Policy

Due to the current situation, the board of trustees have felt it prudent to have a policy whereby the unrestricted funds excluding tangible fixed assets held by the company should be six months of 2021 budgeted unrestricted running costs which equates to approximately £34,000. At 31 December 2020 the unrestricted net current assets of the Trust (comprising designated funds of £67,991 and general funds of £43,664) stood at £111,655 (2019: £123,381) which is above the level required. The reserves policy will be reviewed annually.

Funds in Deficit

There were no funds in deficit at 31 December 2020.

Statement of Responsibilities of the Trustees

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company as at the end of the financial year and of the surplus or deficit of the company for that period.

In preparing those financial statements the Trustees are required to

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently.
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP.
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent.
- State whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

I confirm that I am qualified to undertake the examination because I am a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW), which is one of the listed bodies.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
2. the financial statements do not accord with those records; or
3. the financial statements do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. the financial statements have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

General Information

The charity is a public benefit entity and a private company limited by guarantee, registered in England and Wales and a registered charity in England and Wales. The address of the registered office is St Michaels Hall, 11 Bennett Road, Leeds, LS63HN, England.

Statement of Compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in compliance with FRS 102, 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and the Republic of Ireland', the Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (Charities SORP (FRS 102)) and the Companies Act 2006.

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) (effective 1 January 2015) - Charities SPRT (FRS102), the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102), and the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Leeds Christian Community Trust meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS102.

Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy note.

Going Concern

The Trustees have prepared financial projections, taking into consideration the current economic climate and its potential impact on the sources of income and planned expenditure. They have a reasonable expectation that adequate financial resources are available to enable the charity to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future and have adequate contingency plans in the event that income streams are reduced. Consequently, the financial statements have therefore been prepared on the basis that the charity is a going concern.

Leeds Christian Community Trust

Year Ended 31st December 2020

Notes to the Financial Statements

Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In the application of the charities accounting policies, the Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised, if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods of the revision affects both current and future periods. There are no estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are available for use at the discretion of the trustees to further any of the charity's purposes.

Designated funds are unrestricted funds earmarked by the trustees for particular future project or commitment.

Restricted funds are subjected to restrictions on their expenditure declared by the donor or through the terms of an appeal and fall into one of two sub-classes: restricted income funds or endowment funds.

Incoming Resources

All incoming resources are included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- Income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable, and its amount can be measured reliably.
- Legacy income is recognised when receipt is probable, and entitlement is established.
- Income from donated goods is measured at the fair value of the goods unless this is impractical to measure reliably, in which case the value is derived from the cost to the donor or the estimated resale value. Donated facilities and services are recognised in the accounts when received if the value can be reliably measured. No amounts are included for the contribution of general volunteers.
- Income from contracts for the supply of services is recognised with the delivery of the contracted service. This is classified as unrestricted funds unless there is a contractual requirement for it to be spent on a particular purpose and returned if unspent, in which case it may be regarded as restricted.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Resources expended

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis as a liability is incurred. Expenditure includes any VAT which cannot be fully recovered, and is classified under headings of the statement of financial activities to which it relates:

- Expenditure on raising funds includes the costs of all fundraising activities, events, non-charitable trading activities, and the sale of donated goods.
- Expenditure on charitable activities includes all costs incurred by a charity in undertaking activities that further its charitable aims for the benefit of its beneficiaries, including those support costs and costs relating to the governance of the charity apportioned to charitable activities.
- Other expenditure includes all expenditure that is neither related to raising funds for the charity nor part of its expenditure on charitable activities.

All costs are allocated to expenditure categories reflecting the use of the resource. Direct costs attributable to a single activity are allocated directly to that activity. Shared costs are apportioned between the activities they contribute to on a reasonable, justifiable and consistent basis.

Operating leases

Lease payments are recognised as an expense over the lease term on a straight-line basis. The aggregate benefit of lease incentives is recognised as a reduction to expense over the lease term, on a straight-line basis.

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are initially recorded at cost, and subsequently stated at cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Any tangible assets carried at revalued amounts are recorded at the fair value at the date of revaluation less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses.

An increase in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of a revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, unless it reverses a charge for impairment that has previously been recognised as expenditure within the statement of financial activities. A decrease in the carrying amount of an asset as a result of revaluation, is recognised in other recognised gains and losses, except to which it offsets any previous revaluation gain, in which case the loss is shown within other recognised gains and losses on the statement of financial activities.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost or valuation of an asset, less its residual value, over the useful economic life of that asset as follows:

Fixtures and fittings	-	25% straight line

Investments

Unlisted equity investments are initially recorded at cost, and subsequently measured at fair value. If fair value cannot be reliably measured, assets are measured at cost less impairment.

Listed investments are measured at fair value with changes in fair value being recognised in income or expenditure.

Impairment of fixed assets

A review for indicators of impairment is carried out at each reporting date, with the recoverable amount being estimated where such indicators exist. Where the carrying value exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is impaired accordingly. Prior impairments are also reviewed for possible reversal at each reporting date.

For the purposes of impairment testing, when it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, an estimate is made of the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. The cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that includes the asset and generates cash inflows that largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.

For impairment testing of goodwill, the goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the charity are assigned to those units.

Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where it is recognised at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Defined contribution plans

Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense in the period in which the related service is provided. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that the prepayment will lead to a reduction in future payments or a cash refund.

When contributions are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the end of the reporting date in which the employees render the related service, the liability is measured on a discounted present value basis. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as an expense in the period in which it arises.

Limited by guarantee

The charity is a company limited by guarantee. Every member promises, if the charity is dissolved while he, she or it remains a member or within 12 months afterwards to pay up to £1 towards the costs of dissolution and the liabilities incurred by the charity while the contributor was a member.
