Principle activity

The principle activity of the company is in the electrical installation and inspection of domestic properties.

Results for the year

In the second year of trading the company was able to repay all of the £800 of the load secured during the first year of trading. Good progress has been made in establishing credibility and the application for approval to the institute NICEIC to become an Approved Electrical Contractor was successful. The company is still reliant on two part time members of staff, directors, which have not taken salary. The directors propose that a dividend be paid this year to the two directors totalling

The directors propose that a dividend be paid this year to the two directors totalling £1200

Business review

The company has secured a steady stream of electrical work based on maintenance, inspection and new installations within domestic properties. The company remains limited to two part time workers who are the directors of the company and have taken no salary this year. This is in line with the company five-year plan in which during the first two years tools will be procured, procedures established and professional membership of the NICEIC obtained.

Directors and their interests

The directors on the 10^{th} November 2008, year two, and throughout the year ended on that date their interest in the shares of the company were as follows:

	Fully paid Ordinary Shares
	Year 1
Andrew Clarke	1
Paul Richards	1

Employees

The company currently has no employees and relies on the two part time directors and company Secretary. A directors meeting was held on 14th October to review and align the business aims.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). The financial statements are required by law to give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that year. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the group will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the group and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the directors are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the company's auditor is unaware; and
- the directors have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditor is aware of that information.

Auditors

During the second year of business, work was limited to fifteen pieces of work and as such it was felt that an auditor report was not appropriate, instead a complete list of activities has been provided.
