Statement of directors' responsibilities in respect of the Directors' report and the financial statements

The directors are responsible for preparing the Directors' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law they have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union (IFRSs as adopted by the EU) and applicable law.

Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable, relevant and reliable;
- state whether they have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs as adopted by the EU;
- assess the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern; and
- use the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are responsible for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and have general responsibility for taking such steps as are reasonably open to them to safeguard the assets of the company and to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

Notes

(forming part of the financial statements)

1 Accounting policies

Branden Property Limited (the "Company") is a private company incorporated, domiciled and registered in England in the UK. The registered number is 05720363 and the registered address is First Floor, Finchale House, Belmont Business Park, Durham, United Kingdom, DH1 1TW.

The company financial statements have been prepared and approved by the directors in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the EU ("Adopted IFRSs").

The accounting policies set out below have, unless otherwise stated, been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements.

Measurement convention

The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that investment properties are stated at their fair value.

Going concern

The company meets its day to day working capital requirements through its positive cash balances and cash generated from its operations. The company's forecasts and projections, taking account of reasonably possible changes in trading performance, show that the company is expected to have a sufficient level of financial resources available through current facilities.

After making enquiries, the directors have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

Foreign currency

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the company's functional currencies at the foreign exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the balance sheet date are retranslated to the functional currency at the foreign exchange rate ruling at that date. Foreign exchange differences arising on translation are recognised in the income statement. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are stated at fair value are retranslated to the functional currency at foreign exchange rates ruling at the dates the fair value was determined.

Classification of financial instruments issued by the company

Following the adoption of IAS 32, financial instruments issued by the company are treated as equity only to the extent that they meet the following two conditions:

- (a) they include no contractual obligations upon the company to deliver cash or other financial assets or to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another party under conditions that are potentially unfavourable to the company; and
- (b) where the instrument will or may be settled in the company's own equity instruments, it is either a non-derivative that includes no obligation to deliver a variable number of the company's own equity instruments or is a derivative that will be settled by the company's exchanging a fixed amount of cash or other financial assets for a fixed number of its own equity instruments.

To the extent that this definition is not met, the proceeds of issue are classified as a financial liability. Where the instrument so classified takes the legal form of the company's own shares, the amounts presented in these financial statements for called up share capital and share premium account exclude amounts in relation to those shares.

Non-derivative financial instruments

Non-derivative financial instruments comprise trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and trade and other payables.

Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition they are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition they are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances and call deposits. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Company's cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose only of the cash flow statement.

Intra-group financial instruments

Where the Company enters into financial guarantee contracts to guarantee the indebtedness of other companies within its group, the company considers these to be insurance arrangements and accounts for them as such. In this respect, the company treats the guarantee contract as a contingent liability until such time as it becomes probable that the company will be required to make a payment under the guarantee.

Investment property

Investment property, which is property held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation, is stated at its fair value at the year end. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of investment property are included in net profit or loss for the year in which they arise.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of investment property, being the difference between the net disposal proceeds and carrying value, are included in profit or loss for the year of the retirement/disposal.

Revenue

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for services provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts, VAT and other sales related taxes.

Rental income from investment property is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant operating lease. The aggregate cost of lease incentives are recognised as a reduction of rental income on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Expenses

Operating lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives received are recognised in the income statement as an integral part of the total lease expense.

Financing income and expenses

Financing expenses comprise interest payable and is recognised in profit or loss as it accrues, using the effective interest method. Foreign currency gains and losses are reported on a net basis.

Taxation

Tax on the profit or loss for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the income statement except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in equity.

Current tax is the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. The following temporary differences are not provided for: the initial recognition of goodwill; the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting nor taxable profit other than in a business combination, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they will probably not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date. For investment property that is measured at fair value deferred tax is provided at the rate applicable to the sale of the property except for that part of the property that is depreciable and the company's business model is to consume substantially all of the value through use. In the latter case the tax rate applicable to income is used.

A deferred tax asset is recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Standards and Interpretations applied for the first time

None of the Adopted IFRSs, which became effective for the first time, had a significant impact on either the company's result for the year or equity.

Adopted IFRS not yet applied

Of the IFRSs that have been issued and endorsed by the EU but have not yet been applied by the company, because they are not yet effective, none are expected to have a material effect on the company's financial statements.

Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Company makes estimates concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates and assumptions will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. There are no estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

The company has tax losses of £1,941,740 (2017: £1,940,875) available to relieve against future taxable profits of the company. A deferred tax asset of £330,096 (2017: £330,414) in respect of these losses has not been recognised due to the uncertainty surrounding their future recovery against taxable profits.

Factors that may affect future current and total tax charges

Reductions in the UK corporation tax rate from 20% to 19% (effective from 1 April 2017) and to 18% (effective 1 April 2020) were substantively enacted on 26 October 2015. An additional reduction to 17% (effective 1 April 2020) was substantively enacted on 6 September 2016. The unprovided deferred tax asset at 31 March 2018 has been calculated based on these rates.

The company has valued all of its investment property as at 31 March 2018 at fair value.

The fair value of the company's investment property has been arrived by certain directors of the company who are members of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

All of the investment properties have been categorised within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy outlined in note 14. Their valuation was arrived at by reference to market evidence of transaction prices for similar properties.

14 Financial instruments

The company's financial assets and liabilities consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables and trade and other payables. The company has no external borrowings. The company does not trade in financial instruments.

Fair value of financial instruments (disclosure only)

Cash and cash equivalents

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents is estimated at its carrying value where the cash is repayable on demand. Where it is not repayable on demand then the fair value is estimated at the present value of future cash flows, discounted at the market rate of interest at the balance sheet date.

Trade and other receivables

The fair value of trade and other receivables is estimated at the present value of future cash flows, discounted at the market rate of interest at the balance sheet date if this is material.

Trade and other payables

The fair value of trade and other payables is estimated at the present value of future cash flows, discounted at the market rate of interest at the balance sheet date.

Fair value hierarchy

The company measures fair value using the following fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements:

- Level 1: Quoted market prices (unadjusted) in an active market for an identical item.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques based on observable inputs, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes those items where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable data have a significant effect on the valuation.

The fair values of all other financial assets and financial liabilities by class together with their carrying amounts shown in the balance sheet are as follows:

	2018		2017
	Carrying amount £	Fair value £	Carrying amount £	Fair value £
Loans and receivables
Cash and cash equivalents	87,144	87,144	72,792	72,792

Total financial liabilities	23,597	23,597	7,951	7,951
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>

Cash and cash equivalents falls within Level 1. All other financial assets and financial liabilities noted above fall within Level 2.

Management of financial risk

The company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risk faced by the company, to set appropriate risk limits and controls, and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the company's activities.

The main risks associated with the company's financial instruments have been identified as credit risk and liquidity risk.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss if a customer or counterparty fails to meet its contractual obligations and arises from the company's amounts due from related parties and other receivables. This risk is mitigated through established credit management techniques, including monitoring counterparty creditworthiness, setting exposure limits and monitoring exposure against these customer credit limits. Credit assessments are performed on all tenants looking to enter into lease agreement with the company, with the majority of tenants paying rent in advance. Outstanding tenants' receivables are monitored on a regular basis. The carrying amount of balances due from related parties and other receivables in the balance sheet represents the maximum exposure to credit risk. There were no balances past their due date at the balance sheet date.

The directors consider the company's exposure to credit risk to be acceptable and normal for entities of its size.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risk damage to the company's reputation.

Capital management

The company defines capital as share capital and retained earnings. The company's objective in capital management is to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern providing returns to shareholders, through optimisation of the debt and equity balance, and to maintain a strong credit rating and headroom. The company manages its capital structure and makes appropriate decisions in light of the current economic conditions and strategic objectives of the company.

15 Commitments

Capital commitments

Capital commitments at the end of the period for which no provision has been made amounted to £nil (2017: £nil).

Leases as lessor

The investment properties are let under operating leases. The future minimum lease payments under non-cancellable leases are as follows:

	2018 £	2017 £
Less than one year	14,500	14,500
Between one and five years	19,347	33,847
More than five years	-	-
	<hr/> 33,847	<hr/> 48,347
	<hr/>	<hr/>

Where the operating leases on investment properties provide for contingent rental increases, estimated contingent rents have not been included in the above note.
