(a) Accounting convention

The accounts and notes are prepared under the historical cost convention.

(b) Recognition of income

Restricted and unrestricted income is accounted for on an accruals basis. Donations are accounted for gross when received. Grants for immediate expenditure are accounted when they become receivable.

(c) Recognition of expenditure

Restricted and unrestricted expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis. Expenditure is allocated directly to the activity of which it relates, including support costs which can be identified as being an integral part of direct charitable expenditure.

Management and administrative costs are those costs identified as related to the management of the charity or where it is reasonable to assume that such costs cannot be attributed as a direct charitable expense. Fundraising and publicity costs are those related to general publicity and fundraising if such had taken place. Publicity related to a specific activity of the charity is regarded as direct charitable expenditure.

(d) Fund accounting

Restricted funds arise from grants and sponsorship awarded where conditions are related to their expenditure. Income and expenditure is treated as per notes (b) and (c).

2 Management and Administration

There were no management or administration costs associated with operating the charity during the year.

3 Transactions with trustees

There were no related party expenditure transactions during the year with any trustees or connected persons.
