Significant judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make significant judgements and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. No significant judgements or assumptions have had to be made by management in preparing these financial statements.

Changes in accounting policies

There have been a few changes in accounting policies as a result of the first time adoption of FRS102, but there is no Financial impact on the financial statements.

Turnover

Turnover is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, excluding discounts, rebates, value added tax and other sales taxes.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are initially measured at cost. After initial recognition, intangible assets are measured at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Development costs are being amortised evenly over their estimated useful life of ten years.

Tangible fixed assets

Depreciation is provided at the following annual rates in order to write off the cost less estimated residual value of each asset over its estimated residual life:

Computer equipment 25% on reducing balance.

At the end of each financial year, the directors assess the carrying values of the assets having regard to their condition, obsolescence and whether they are still in use, and where necessary the asset values are impaired.

Financial instruments

The company only enters into basic financial instruments that result in the recognition of financial assets or liabilities like trade debtors, other debtors, trade creditors and other creditors, loans from banks or other third parties and loans to/from related parties.

Debt instruments like bank loans are initially measured at present value of future payments and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Debt instruments which are payable or receivable within one year such as trade debtors or trade creditors are measured, initially and subsequently at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received.

Financial assets that are measured at cost and amortised cost are assessed at the end of each reporting period for objective evidence of impairment. If objective evidence of impairment is found, an impairment loss is recognised in the profit & loss account.
