Appendix 1

We have trained people under the governments online IT training for free. We have also helped people to fill in benefits forms and given general advice and signposting.

The community has benefitted by having learnt IT skills which has helped them

1. Getting additional skills to get a better job.
2. The elderly people are able to communicate with their relatives abroad via internet.
3. Most government forms are filled online saving the time to post the hard copies of the forms, thus saving on transport and postage charges.
4. Able to get news around the world as it happens without spending additional money on buying news papers/magazines.
5. Do not feel housebound as able to speak & chat with friends and relatives, better than being glued to TV.

By signposting, general advice and form filling the community has benefitted

1. Raising awareness of their rights and getting the correct benefits that they are entitled to.
2. Many elderly people have difficulties in filling statutory forms as English is not their mother tongue. These have saved them money as other organisations and individuals charge lot of money for form filling.
3. Signposting has also helped not only the community but also service providers to reach their target groups. Many people in the community are not aware of such services.
