Report of the Trustees for the Year Ended 30 September 2015

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 30 September 2015. The trustees have adopted the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities' issued in March 2005.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

Sussex Arts Academy is a company limited by guarantee having charitable status. It is governed according to its Articles of Association.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees
The charity may by ordinary resolution appoint a person who is willing to act to be a trustee and determine the rotation in which any trustees are to retire.

A trustee retiring by rotation may be appointed a trustee at any general meeting provided that he or she is recommended for re-election by the trustees, or provided that a proposal is made with the appropriate notice, signed by a member entitled to vote at the meeting and signed by the person who is to be proposed to show his or her willingness to be appointed. appointed

Induction and training of new trustees

On appointment trustees are inducted by the Operations Manager through formal and informal processes. In addition, new trustees are allocated an existing, experienced trustee as a mentor. The mentor has regular contact with the new trustee to identify support and training needs and to ensure that these needs are net. At the end of the trustee's first ever a review is carried out with the mentor to discuss the new trustee's experience of induction with a view to identifying issues that need to be improved. Recommendations for improvements are then submitted to the board. The end-of-year review also provides an opportunity to identify the new trustee's on-going support and training needs. All board members have the opportunity to undertake a personal review on an annual basis with the Chairman. It is the Chairman's responsibility to ensure that each trustee has access to the training and support required for them to carry out their statutory duties in line with the values and policies of the chairty.

On-going training needs for the board as a whole are identified through a process of self-review. Training focused on the priorities identified is delivered by signposting trustees to relevant resources and programmes that enable them to develop their knowledge and skills on an individual basis, and this can supplemented through board development sessions led by trustees themselves, or with external input.

Organisational structure
The charity is controlled by the management committee which comprises the trustees of the charity, who are also the directors of the company under company law.

The trustees have the powers to manage the business of the charity. Trustees will normally serve for three years. Each year a bird of the trustees are required to retire at the Annual General Meeting. The management committee may appoint a trustee to fill a casual vacancy for the period up to the next Annual General Meeting, when the trustee will retire and be eligible for re-election at that meeting.

The management committee meets on regular occasions during the year, and is responsible for the strategic direction and policies of the organisation. The trustees may call a general meeting at any time provided the appropriate notice is given. No more than 15 months may clapse between Annual General Meetings.

Risk management
The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

The management committee has conducted a review of the major strategic, business and operational risks to which the charity is exposed and systems have been established to mitigate those risks. Internal risks are minimalised by the implementation of financial procedures for authorisation of all transactions and planned projects. These procedures are constantly reviewed to ensure that they meet the current needs of the charity.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objects of Sussex Arts Academy, as stated in the Articles of Association, are to promote education in arts for young people under the age of 25 who reside and/or attend educational establishments in the county of West Sussex (or adjoining counties in South East England) in such ways as the trustees see fit by:

- referring young people to persons of suitable knowledge and skill for education in arts; fundraising and then awarding grants and bursaries, so that young people may take up opportunities for education in
- arts; or promoting, supporting and providing information about arts events which will further the knowledge and skills of young people in respect of the arts.

Significant activities
After the demise of the partnership with Tata Consultancy Services in 2013-14, a new partnership was set up with e-PD, Enabling Learning - a school-based organisation with a digital platform enabling the charity to market programmes offered by ars practitioners in the community to schools. A showcase conference in the autumn of 2014 identified a number of practitioners who were willing to trial the use of this platform.

Partnerships were developed and strengthened, including with Creatives Across Sussex, West Sussex Music, Artswork, and the University of Chichester.

There was a successful bid to the Big Lottery Fund which enabled the charity to set up its information technology infrastructure, and free office accommodation and services were provided by the University of Chichester. Funding was also granted to enable the charity to employ a student intern under the GraduateOn scheme.

Work started on projects to trial the sponsorship strand of the charity's remit, with the successful underwriting of the start-up costs for a community theatre group (money which was subsequently recouped through ticket sales), and the planning of a project to develop opportunities in arts and cultural education for children in special schools which, if successful, will attract Arts Council of England funding.

Review of the year In 2014-15 work continued to develop the charity with a particular focus in the first months of communications with arts practitioners in the community, and on developing a range of social media channels of communication with all potential stakeholders. New partnership arrangements were put in place to secure access to a digital platform to offer courses to schools.

Attention was then focussed on fundraising which resulted in a cash in-flow of approximately £8,000 as well as further contributions in kind.

The result for the year was a deficit of £5,091 (2014: surplus of £39,464) on incoming resources less outgoing resources in the year. The charity's total funds at the end of the year were £34,373 (2014: £39,464) of which £1,485 (2014: £nil) are restricted.

Public benefit
The trustees have complied with their duty to have due regard to the guidance on public benefit published by the Charity Commission in exercising their powers and fulfilling their duties.

Reserves policy
The charity operates on a year by year basis with fundraising targets calculated to maintain reserves at a level which will cover any unexpected increases in costs. Reserves are monitored quarterly against projected expenditure to ensure that they, together with any income, are sufficient to maintain the financial viability of the charity. Levels of fundraising for the year were low and so costs have been kept well below business plan projections in order to maintain sufficient reserves to enable the charity to sustain its development and operations.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions of Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating ved by order of the board of trustees on .. and signed on its behalf by:

Mr. P. Griffies.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Sussex Arts Academy

I report on the accounts for the year ended 30 September 2015 set out on pages six to thirteen.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner
The charity's trustees (who are also the directors for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is required.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)tb) of the 2011 Act), and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report
My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

Independent examiner's statement
In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention

- which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 386 and 387 of the Companies Act 2006; and to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of Sections 394 and 395 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities

have not been met; or to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
