24 AN ENTERPRISE FINANCE GUARANTEE

24.1 Your lender's ability to provide you with this loan is dependent upon your lender receiving a guarantee from the UK Government under the Enterprise Finance Guarantee (EFG) scheme. The guarantee provides your lender with a partial guarantee, should you default on repaying this loan

24.2 You are responsible for the repayment of your loan

The EFG Guarantee is provided to your lender and not to you. You remain responsible for repaying the whole of this loan at all times

24.3 Paying your Guarantee fee

A condition of providing an EFG guarantee to your lender is that you pay a fee for this guarantee to the UK Government. This fee will be payable on a quarterly basis in advance by direct debit. The quarterly payment dates and amount of each payment are specified in the EFG guarantee fee payment schedule in your Offer documents.

You are responsible for paying the guarantee fee for so long as there are amounts outstanding under your loan. Failure to pay this guarantee fee in full, as and when it falls due, may make you liable to repay the whole of your loan early. It is therefore important that this guarantee fee is paid by you in full on the date it falls due. If this loan becomes repayable early, for whatever reason, any quarterly guarantee fee already paid will not be refunded.

The EFG guarantee fee payment schedule may be updated from time to time as described in paragraph 24.5 below.

24.4 Calculating the amount of your Guarantee fee

The guarantee fee, as outlined in the EFG guarantee fee payment schedule provided to you, is calculated based on the projected outstanding balance of the facility at the outset of the loan, as confirmed by you in the EFG Information Declaration, multiplied by an annual rate of 2%. Therefore, if a regular repayment profile has been agreed, the guarantee fee payable each quarter will reduce over the term of the facility. The EFG scheme administrators will calculate this reduction using an arithmetic formula to generate an assumed repayment profile of your loan. This formula is applied consistently across all EFG scheme facilities of this type provided by EFG accredited lenders and may not match the actual repayments made by you of your loan

24.5 Adjusting your Guarantee Fee

The actual amount of money you owe under your loan and the amount on which the guarantee fee is calculated can change during the lifetime of the loan. This may occur as a result of the occurrence of an 'in-life' event, such as an unscheduled repayment of your loan, amendments to the term of your loan, capital repayment holidays, moratoria or missed capital repayments

If an 'in-life' event occurs, this may result in either an increase, or decrease, in the quarterly guarantee fee payable by you as outlined in the guarantee fee schedule provided to you by your lender. In these circumstances, a revised guarantee fee schedule that sets out your projected future quarterly guarantee fee payments should be provided to you by the Lender. If an 'in-life' event occurs in respect of your loan and you do not receive a revised guarantee fee schedule, you should contact your lender to see whether your guarantee fee should change.
